ST. PAUL CITY SCHOOL HONORS THE MINNESOTA TWINS

At the end of each academic year, the St. Paul City School family gets together to celebrate the hard work of their scholars with food provided by families and staff with its annual Community Potluck. This event also serves as an opportunity to thank the friends of SPCS. The school recognized six community partners for their service to the students of SPCS, including the Minnesota Twins. The organization invested their time and energy through their Jackie Robinson Be An All-Star Reading Program and Senior Director of Corporate Partnerships Jeff Jurgella and Senior Account Executive Chad Jackson provided scholars with the opportunity to attend a game at Target Field. Both Jurgella and Jackson were awarded the 2015 Caring Community Citizen Award as a thank you for their contributions. The potluck is a fun tradition that reminds the SPCS community why the school is a great place — talented children, supportive parents, caring teachers and genuine community.
